

- Quality and completeness of the basic registers (Population, Real Estate, and Business) and possibility to use the administrative data sources
- Good and timely organisation of census promotion campaign
- Professional census team, team work
- Possibility to always have plan "B"
- Awareness raising of the society at large
- Adaptation of the international classifications for the census needs
- Timely acquisition of modern software and hardware
- Possibility to participate in international meetings, consultations with population census experts and colleagues in other countries
- Sufficient and timely financing
- Possibility to recruit professionals firms and enterprises (e.g., for data processing, publicity campaign, etc.)

At the moment the Population Census Division of Statistics Lithuania is finishing the release of the census results. We are also analysing the process and quality of the census and preparing a comprehensive report. Soon, we will start developing plans for the future population census.

Future censuses could gain from the improvement of registers and be based on a mixed use of traditional enumeration and extraction from registers.

In press - 6th October 2004.